

What is DAPA ?

Diversity and Personal Activism

DAPA is a high impact interactive workshop where participants are able to reflect upon prejudices, grow in acceptance of others, and take active roles in initiatives that increase dialogue and enhance understanding.

How We're Different

- The latest trend in diversity training is computer based learning or online courses, where the participants are exposed to content without real interaction with other human beings. Diversity is all about people interaction and that is why DAPA is so effective. Through a series of small and large group exercises, role-playing, humor and multimedia presentations, DAPA gives participants a true experiential learning opportunity.
- Traditional diversity training focuses solely on the problem and stops there. DAPA goes beyond The Problem (Module I), motivating participants not only to reflect upon The Solution (Module II), but also to formulate A Plan of Action (Module III). We believe in the importance of inspiring people to take action; that is why we go beyond diversity to include personal activism in the program curriculum.
- For most training companies, diversity is just another of the many programs they offer. We focus 100% of our energy on diversity training only. That's all we do.

OUR MISSION

"One Planet United seeks to bring unity and understanding to ALL people through experiential and educational programs, projects and resources. We are devoted to bring about the elimination of prejudice, intolerance and division, one community at a time."

Corporate Diversity Training

A diverse workforce can make an organization stronger and better prepared for the future. By allowing employees to reflect upon the value of diversity and the benefits of respecting and working in harmony with one another, companies protect themselves from potential claims of discrimination, costly litigations and lawsuits. Additionally, they create an inclusive environment where all employees are engaged, feel valued, and take better care of customers, all of which increases productivity and translates into positive effects on the bottom line.

DAPA Corporate Trainings are designed for:

- Small and Large Companies
- Management and/or Employees
- Human Resources Departments

>> DAPA addresses:

- Everyday bigotry, prejudice & intolerance
- The effects of inappropriate humor
- Group Thinking / "Us & Them" mentalities
- Stereotyping and Profiling

Civic Diversity Training

Diversity is a reality in our society and is something desirable. Nevertheless, when people from different backgrounds interact problems can occur. The DAPA Civic Trainings are designed to address the many divisive attitudes and behaviors that diversity often brings. Additionally, DAPA offers participants practical solutions and ideas for initiatives to create a more inclusive community.

DAPA Civic Trainings are design for:

- School Faculty and Staff
- City and County Employees
- Non-profit Organizations
- Religious Groups
- Higher Education Institutions

>> DAPA promotes:

- The defense of civil rights & human dignity
- The overall equality of ALL people
- The elimination of offensive speech
- The use of non-violent conflict resolution

Teen Diversity Workshops

The DAPA Teen Workshops have been created specifically for a teenage audience. With the help of teen focus groups, the workshops were designed to directly address the many complex diversity issues that young people face today as well as to offer effective solutions for positive change. DAPA Workshops for Teens will inspire young people to be the catalysts who promote unity and harmony with all people today, tomorrow and into the future.

DAPA Teen Workshops are designed for:

- Middle School & High School Students
- After School Clubs
- Religious Youth Groups
- High Risk & At-Risk Teens

>> DAPA creates:

- Higher awareness and sensitivity
- A synergistic team-building effect
- A greater degree of understanding
- A desire to make a difference
